

Knox Pledges Loyalty To Sound and Honest Government in Speech

25,000 PERSONS HEAR NOMINEE RAP NEW DEAL

Notification Completes Post-Convention Ceremonies

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—Col. Frank Knox formally accepted the Republican party's nomination for the vice-presidency of the United States tonight, with a declaration that the "people know that with the election of a new administration the dammed up forces of recovery will burst forth in a magnificent prosperity."

Before a crowd which filled the seating capacity of the huge Chicago stadium—estimated by the citizens committee which arranged the notification program at 25,000 inside and several additional thousand outside—the publisher of the Chicago Daily News assailed the New Deal as attempting to supplant the "American way" of government and economic order with a regimented state.

"The Republican party," he said, "recognizes that the changing social and economic conditions call for increased federal activities."

"But it always insists that such new activities shall be legalized by proper constitutional amendment."

"It always will."

"The Republican platform of 1936," he continued, "lays down in simple language the program of federal regulation and legislation to which it commits itself on many issues."

Speaking slowly and earnestly, Col. Knox said that he, the running mate, and Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, the party's presidential nominee, as well as other Republican spokesmen would outline in detail during the campaign why new "concrete measures" the party has in mind.

His audience listened soberly as he pledged personal loyalty to Gov. Landon and devotion to the principles of sound and honest government.

It cheered at his frequent blasts at the New Deal and booed when he ran down the list of the Roosevelt administration's alphabetical agencies of administration.

The Knox notification completed the party's post-convention ceremonies and brought to the city one of the largest gatherings of Republican notables here since the same stadium housed the party's convention in 1932.

Many of them had attended the notification ceremony at Topeka a week ago tonight of Gov. Alfred M. Landon, the presidential candidate.

The longest demonstration of a noisy three hours came just as Col. Knox took the platform. For ten minutes, cowbells jangled, squawks and other noise makers helped the crowd release its enthusiasm. A parade dotted with standards circled around the main floor in true national fashion.

The departure of the vice presidential candidate from the stadium was the signal for a colorful demonstration outside. Cauldrons of red fire at the four corners of the building were touched off. Young Republicans lining nearby streets at the same time lighted torches of the same material to form an avenue of red fire for the Colonel and his party as they drove away.

A preliminary program of community singing and songs by opera, stage and radio stars, had entertained the crowd more than an hour and a half.

RUSSIA, JAPAN SIGNIFY ENTRY IN NAVAL RACE

Will Begin Expansion Along With U. S. And Britain

London, July 30.—(P)—Russia signified her entry into the expanding naval armaments race today by reaching an accord with Britain which sets no limit to her tonnage.

(Other tangible evidence of naval competition among the largest powers came from Tokyo in the prediction Japan would arrange to start replacing four capital ships within the year.)

(The Japanese disclosure followed American and British announcements yesterday indicating accelerated naval construction as soon as the 1923 Washington and 1930 London limitation treaties expire next Dec. 31.)

(The British said they would lay down the keels of two new battleships in 1937.)

(Admiral William H. Standley, acting secretary of the navy, declared in Washington he had "not the slightest doubt" the United States would let contracts by fall for two new battleships and their keels would be laid next January.)

(Admiral Standley also gave urgency to congress-authorized recruiting of 10,000 men to raise to 100,000 the navy's enlisted strength, needed to man 23 new fighting ships scheduled for completion this year.)

The Anglo-Soviet pact pushes one step forward the policy of Britain to arrange bilateral treaties with other powers.

The treaty has been completely drafted, it was said, but is not yet signed. It is based on the London naval accord signed this year by Britain, France and the United States with Italy and Japan refusing to participate.

All that is required to conclude the treaty, officials said, is to inform the United States and France of Britain's intentions, and receive official acknowledgment.

Pending authorization, therefore, officials declined to publicize the details.

It was learned, however, from authoritative Russian sources that the Soviet received a free hand on the total tonnage of its eastern fleet, a point on which it has insisted since the discussions were started.

Russia was adamant, it was learned, because it was not willing to bind itself to a western pact in the face of an unrestricted Japanese naval program.

"This policy of government by guess, officially explained by President Roosevelt as founded on a philosophy of 'try anything once,' was initiated under the title of economic pallid."

"No one of its proponents has even been able to define the New Deal or to explain what it is aimed at or where it is going. It began with a proposal for a belt of trees in a territory that nature had decided should not have trees. It is ending with the use of public funds to conduct classes in tap dancing."

"The (the New Deal policies) are a strange interlude between the solemn promises of the 1932 platform and the vague generalization of the 1936 (Democratic) platform."

"It is constantly asserted that the Republican party has always stood for a strong federal government. The assertion is correct. It still stands for a vigorous federal authority. But it advocates this authority within the limits set by the constitution."

"(The Republican party) prefers a government guided by constitutions to a government guided only by caprice."

"Whatever measures the Republican administration may urge upon Congress, not one will flout the constitution of the United States."

"Not one will break a promise."

"For more than three years the economic life of the country has been at the mercy of a crew of amateur experimenters, hacking at the vitals of American industry, agriculture, commerce and finance."

"It is now a race between the exhaustion of federal credit and the coming of natural recovery. It is a race between inflation and the revival of normal business activity. The race is not yet decided."

"The president has recently told the American people that they have a rendezvous with destiny. Under present conditions, the most likely rendezvous is with a receiver for the treasury."

"It is the verdict of history from Diocletian in Rome to Mr. Roosevelt in Washington, that no one man can successfully guide the course of industry for a great nation."

"All the major New Deal experiments have ended in failure and economic loss."

"There are limits to the ability of a government to regiment the economic life of a people. Such interference always encounters a drought or some force beyond the control even of a New Dealer."

"They (the American people) want order in economic life, not an occasional breathing spell."

"Brave pioneering and hard work and patient saving have made this the richest and fairest civilization in

Scene of both the 1932 major party national conventions, the Chicago Stadium, seating 25,000, was chosen for the notification ceremonies of Col. Frank Knox, inset, as Republican vice presidential candidate. Interior of the mammoth structure, on the block-long stage of which were placed seats for nearly 700 party notables, is shown here.

Highlights of Address By Col. Knox Accepting Republican Nomination

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—Highlights of the speech of Col. Frank Knox in formally accepting the Republican nomination for vice-president of the United States:

"I am moved tonight by a realization that in this crusade for the restoration of sound government in our land there is before me the greatest opportunity for service that has ever come to me."

"From the day it took office (the Roosevelt administration) embarked on a series of hysterical experiments on the economic life of a burdened people."

"The people of this country must choose between the regimentation of the economic life of a hundred and thirty million people by the political-appointed federal bureaucrats and the continuance of free enterprise under a government of constitutional powers."

"The people know that with the election of a new administration next November the dammed-up forces of recovery will burst forth in a magnificent prosperity."

New Find Speeds Search for Body Of Murdered Man

Jacket Believed To Belong To Bernstein Found In Woods

Superior, Wis., July 30.—(P)—Search for the body of Robert Bernstein, 24, Janesville, in densely wooded sections southeast of here quickened today with reports a tan suede jacket similar to one owned by Bernstein had been found near the Brule river.

Sheriff Arthur Sedin reported the jacket was found by a farmer along highway 13, nine miles north of Brule, which is some distance north of the area in which Laverne Marks, 19, son of a Clintonville (Wis.) minister, said he had buried the body in a pile of brush after slaying him.

At Tacoma, Wash., where Marks was held on robbery charges, police said he told them he shot his boyhood chum with a .22 caliber rifle while fishing north of Clintonville, Wis., bundled the body into the luggage compartment of Bernstein's car and drove 275 miles northwest. He said he buried the body near highway 2, between Ashland and Superior.

John Bernstein, father of Robert, said his son had a tan suede jacket with a leather collar and zipper.

Following Marks' instruction, all trails and logging grades within a 50-mile area of Superior, particularly in Brule State Park, were being examined by CCC enrollees from Brule camp.

District Attorney Louis Cattau of Shawano county, in whose jurisdiction Marks said the shooting occurred, said he was undecided whether to have Marks returned to Wisconsin on a first degree murder charge to aid in the search.

Police at Tacoma said Marks had consented to be returned, but Cattau said he would prefer that the body be found before beginning extradition proceedings. No warrant has been issued, he said.

With Mr. Roosevelt expected to reach Hyde Park tomorrow, Wallace's office said the secretary probably would confer with him early next week.

The great plains drought area committee, acting on White House instructions to point up a long-range rehabilitation program, prepared to leave Washington August 12 or 15 on an automobile inspection tour to terminate at either Rapid City or Aberdeen, South Dakota, August 28.

Officials said that in his report to the president, Secretary Wallace would emphasize the importance of the meeting between the great plains committee and the planning commission for the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming under the chairmanship of W. R. Ronald, Mitchell, S. D. publisher.

The four-state commission postponed from August 8 to August 23 an executive conference at Aberdeen for the express purpose of exchanging views with the president's committee.

Likewise, the secretary was expected to report to the chief executive that a "well-oiled" drought relief machine was now in gear.

Washington, July 30.—(P)—The drought was shown today to have taken a heavy toll of ducks in the Great Plains states, but government experts expressed optimism these losses might be offset in a measure by favorable breeding conditions in northern Canada.

While sportsmen throughout the nation speculated on how many days of wild fowl hunting they would be permitted this fall, the biological survey let it be known large broods had been hatched in northern Canadian breeding grounds and migrations to Canada were larger last spring than the year before.

The migration increase was credited by the survey to the severe 1935 regulations, which limited the season to 30 days, and placed heavy restrictions on bag limits, hunting methods, and shooting of certain species.

Urbana, Ill., July 30.—(P)—William A. Norris, 36, assistant chief of the Urbana fire department, was found shot to death in a garage today. Coroner R. C. Shurtz said he found Norris lying in a parked automobile, clutching a .22 caliber revolver. Friends said Norris was melancholy at times but apparently in good health. He was unmarried and had served the fire department nearly a score of years. An inquest was to be held tonight.

Urbana, Ill., July 30.—(P)—In the seclusion of a many-roomed "cottage" in the woods of Huron mountain west of here on Lake Superior, Henry Ford noted that today was his 73rd birthday anniversary.

But because he never has taken the passing of years very seriously, Ford said as he has on most of his previous birthdays—planned for the future. There were many messages of congratulation and only a few visitors, the latter mainly from among the half hundred other wealthy members of the closely guarded Huron Mountain club.

Ottawa, Ill., July 30.—(P)—Robert Calhoun, 11, was drowned while swimming in the Fox river here this afternoon. His body was recovered.

Shopgirls Enlisted In Spanish Attempt To Hold Off Rebels

Situation in War Torn Spain Given In Summary Form

(By the Associated Press)

Situation at a glance: Rebels report 2,000 loyalists slain in ambush near Zaragoza.

Madrid leftist enlist shop girls, take over merchant marine.

Americans flee toward Valencia, where rebel radio announces garrison deserts loyalist cause.

Seizure of foreign industry-banks attributed to loyalists, but denied officially.

France hints may supply arms to leftists.

Deputies Suspended When Prisoners Get Away Before Trial

Accused Killers Recaptured After Wild Chase Thru Court Building

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—Two deputy sheriffs were suspended tonight after three accused killers escaped from their custody in a criminal courts building elevator on the way to a murder trial.

The prisoners pulled crude daggers from their shoes, stabbed one of their guards, and transferred their handcuffs to the deputies wrists before spreading terror over five floors of the building with blackjacks and fists.

One court attaché was knocked unconscious in the resulting chase, which ended in capture of the fugitives and their return to trial on charges of killing a policeman.

The two deputies—Edward Tierney and Edward Wing—were ordered removed "for at least ten days or until a complete investigation has been made" of the escape attempt.

The suspensions were ordered by Sheriff John Toman by long distance telephone from his summer home in Wisconsin. He said he also wanted to find out why only two deputies were assigned to guard such dangerous characters.

The recaptured prisoners—Frank (Bones) Korczykowski, 27; Andrew Bogaci, 28, and Paul Jenkot, 24—were placed in solitary confinement in the jail, where extreme precautions were taken against another escape attempt or a possible suicide try.

The break occurred during a noon recess in trial of the trio on charges of slaying Policeman Jerome McCauley last May 29.

Bogaci was seized at the front of the building. Korczykowski was slugged into submission as he tried to break through shrubbery at the rear of the building. Jenkot was captured after a vain attempt to find refuge on a fire escape.

Judge Lewie heard testimony of those involved in the escape and ruled that it could be submitted as evidence at the trial.

Salvage Airplane From Lake Bottom

Pilot's Body Found Strapped To Seat

Essex, N. Y., July 30.—(P)—A cabin airplane that crashed into Lake Champlain June 27 presumably carrying four persons to their deaths was salvaged today and the body of a man believed to be Steve Kaye, pilot, was recovered.

John L. Halpin of the conservation department, whose employees located the plane today, said that the body was strapped in the pilot's seat.

Checking on the operations from Albany, Halpin said Game Protector William Winters reported that two other bodies, believed a man and a woman, fell from the wreckage as it neared the surface.

Roosevelt Field officials at the time of the crash listed Steve Kaye, New York, as the pilot. Others named as believed to have been passengers were Frank Saglimbene, Eric Erickson and Dolly Zarling, all of New York.

DIDN'T STEAL THE MOWER

Tulsa, Okla., July 30.—(P)—"I didn't steal the lawnmower, George Lipson, a Negro explained to Municipal Judge A. A. Hatch.

"I stumbled over it and I was too lazy to walk around it—so I just pushed it away."

Fifteen days and $20, replied the judge.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Edward Souza, 1080 North Diamond street, reported to the police at 11 o'clock last night that his Hawthorne blue and white bicycle had been stolen. The youth parked his bike near the skating rink on East Douglas avenue, and said that when he returned in 15 minutes it was gone.

Police started a search for the bicycle.

PARENTS OF TWINS

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born late Wednesday night to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richardson of R. R. 1, Jacksonville, at Passavant hospital.

ITALIAN PLANES FORCED DOWN ON WAY TO MOROCCO

2000 Loyalists Slain By Rebels In Ambush

Madrid, July 30.—(P)—Madrid summoned shopgirls to the colors and conscripted Spain's merchant marine in desperate war tonight against growing threat of fascist dictatorship.

To all appearances the big push was on.

Shopgirls, bullfighters, mountaineers, laborers—all were called to fight for the Republic. The merchant marine was taken over to bolster the Spanish navy.

Slipping through rigid censorship came reports 2,000 loyalists were slain in ambush while they marched toward rebellious Zaragoza. Other columns of leftist troops retreated.

A rebel radio station at Seville asserted in a broadcast that the Madrid regime had asked Gen. Francisco Franco, leader of the revolt, for a truce in which the capital's surrender could be negotiated.

(Three Italian bombing planes, of a squadron of six which French authorities at Oran, Algeria, declared were flying to Spanish Morocco, were forced down in French North African territory.)

(Members of one of the crews, French officials said, stated the planes were en route to nador, Spanish Morocco, south of the rebel headquarters at Melilla, on a "special mission.")

A fourth plane was forced down in the sea outside of Oran, and ships were hurrying to rescue three men reported clinging to the wings. Another crashed in Algeria and two of its crew were killed. French authorities said this plane was equipped with machine guns.)

Loyalists aided by Moroccan and San Sebastian police, were routed from Oyarzun in a four-hour battle.

Fifty leftists were killed, Burgos fascists said, 95 wounded and heavy artillery captured at Somosierra. Leftists admitted rebels still held the Alcazar barracks at Toledo.

Rebels broadcast Valencia's garrison had joined their cause, pushing their grip into new territory on the Mediterranean coast. The leftist government issued an official denial.

American refugees were fleeing toward Valencia, unaware whether they would find liberal or rebel forces in control, to board the U. S. warship Quincy.

Government conscription of foreign industry and banks was reported but was denied by officials. Barcelona was tense. Fleeing Americans said loyalists had seized automobile and other factories. Disorder was rampant.

At Burgos, a rebel provisional government, informed Spanish diplomatic and insular representatives throughout the world of their "dismissal."

(Leftist ambassadors in the Argentine, Italy and Germany resigned, indicating belief rebels may control the homeland.)

The lofty peaks of Guadarrama held the fate of Madrid. Loyalists, on the other hand, claimed new victory there, and asserted forces were gathering to assault the narrow passes leading to the capital.

Local Republicans Are Represented At Knox Notification

Local Republicans were represented in the audience at the notification ceremonies for Col. Frank Knox in Chicago last evening.

H. H. Bancroft and son Richard, have been in Chicago for several days and expected to attend.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. Raugh Jennings, the latter secretary of the Morgan County Republican central committee, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dodsworth and family, Ed Williamson and party.

POCKETBOOK MISSING

F. J. Harvey, Route 1, Murrayville, reported to the police last night that he believed his pocket was picked while he was attending the Town-and-meeting at the Jacksonville High School.

Mr. Harvey told the officers that he was in the crowd and that a large man kept pushing him and urging him to move forward.

Later Mr. Harvey discovered that his pocketbook containing $9 was missing.

PARENTS OF TWINS

Twins, a boy and a girl, were born late Wednesday night to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richardson of R. R. 1, Jacksonville, at Passavant hospital.

Illinois Police Radio System Is Ready After Test

Operators Must Now Pass Tests for Government Licenses

Springfield, Ill., July 30.—Representatives of the Western Electric company and the Radio Corporation of America completed final tests on the Springfield police radio system today and announced the apparatus ready to go on the air in actual service.

Inauguration of the new service, however, will be delayed until police operators have passed the required tests and obtained federal licenses.

Operators in transmitting apparatus, both in the station and in radio cruisers, are required to hold third-class federal operators' licenses. Policemen patrolling the city in radio cruisers equipped with only a receiving set will not be required to hold licenses.

It is expected that a representative of the federal radio commission will arrive in Springfield within the next few days to conduct the examinations required to obtain the necessary licenses.

Two of the police radio cruisers have been equipped with receiving and transmitting apparatus. Four other cars carry only receiving equipment.

Praise The Mayor

Engineers, who have handled road construction problems for a long time, have plenty of words of praise for Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn and his decision not to accept bids offered to furnish material for retopping the public square.

The bids were too high, they declared. They did not go further in their public statements, but they left impressions that the paving industry may have a few things to learn about offering for sale their products.

One engineer, who has been doing considerable work on highways, was particularly loud in his praise of the mayor's decision to accept the city engineer's recommendation that the bids be turned down. He pointed out that for an additional $7,000 the city square could be paved with cement, and declared it was his belief that the additional cost would more than pay for itself over a period of years.

The vote cast by the mayor broke a tie in the council, and resulted in rejecting the bids.

Answering a Query

Not long ago a reader wrote in to find out how the federal government through its Resettlement Project, was going to teach people how to be self supporting on ten acres of ground. The reader pointed out that people owning much larger plots of ground were unable to accomplish this same purpose.

The reader's question is indeed one to cause some reflection. However, the person who asked the information apparently failed to note the main fact in the story over which the question arose.

The government intends for persons to farm these ten acre plots intensively, making two small garden crops grow where one crop grew before. The plan is based on a normal year, and normal crop expectations, of course, for the government realizes that it can not do much about the weather.

The main point is that the persons on these ten acre plots are to be employed in factories, or in other lines of production than farming. Farming is to be secondary in their working life. The people on these plots of ground will work in factories when possible, but will have their ten acres of land to fall back upon for sustenance when their regular employment fails.

At least, that is the theory back of the Resettlement projects.

Event at Durbin

Early in the summer Jacksonville residents heard much of school and college class reunions. First the high schools of this city and surrounding towns enjoyed alumni gatherings. The two colleges followed with similar events. The state schools also welcomed old grads on their week's program.

Last Sunday the rural school in the Durbin community held its reunion. For a number of years friends, "alumni," and former teachers of the passing farm generations have recalled old and new times in this unique celebration.

The Durbin school will never frock distinguished gentlemen with the hooded degrees of science or literature. No self made financiers will come back to it in the spirit of Alma Mater to donate a million or so for a new gymnasium. But here are earnest folk interested in keeping alive the memories of this—their own Little Red School House.

America boasts of entering a new era of education, striving to equip her sons for life's most difficult problems. In this progress it is probable that the isolated country school will disappear into history with its carved wooden benches and rows of lunch buckets.

But there is nothing in the past of these schools to bring cause for regret. Men who plowed a hard living from the soil played the sparse dollars that it brought for this learning. They wrote a necessary and substantial chapter in the character forming life of the nation.

It is fitting that a few of these should be proud enough of their posterity to meet publicly in honor of it.

Test Before Release

Henceforth, prisoners seeking parole from Michigan prisons must pass a systematic mental examination before being released to society.

"Only a trained psychiatrist can weed out the borderline cases," says Joseph C. Armstrong, state pardon and parole commissioner. "Those cases usually slip by the ordinary penologist and become a hazard to the outside world."

Commissioner Armstrong knows what he's talking about, because Michigan dismissed its former psychiatrist for reasons of economy and discovered that this had been a rather shortsighted move. The problem of paroled men who went bad after release became increasingly worse.

The Michigan experience, therefore, is something for other states to bear in mind.

We Must Plan Far Ahead

Out of the tragedy of the 1936 drought comes talk of abandoning vast stretches of the prairie states under a wholesale resettlement program. More sensible, however, is the proposal that a gigantic irrigation and conservation program be launched to make such migration unnecessary.

Which is to say that the current drought, climaxing many years of hardship and aridity for the farms, has driven home a very vital lesson—that the drought problem essentially is a long-term proposition. "Dry farmers" and agricultural experts alike are agreed that something more than the spending of emergency millions for relief of human beings and livestock must be worked out.

Just what such a program should involve may be problematical. But in any case it is clear that a long-range program looking far beyond the immediate crisis is necessary.

Jacksonville CCC Unit Nears First Anniversary Date

Payroll Amounts To $1400 For Enrollees Alone; Much Work Done

One year has elapsed since the Jacksonville C.C.C. Camp 2678 was established on Caldwell street. From a camp with a few small tents erected in an open pasture and a crew of 30 men, Camp Jacksonville has grown into a well organized and attractive camp and is now one of the show places of Jacksonville with its 15 attractive buildings, surrounding a well kept parade ground.

Trees, shrubs and flowers located in and near the buildings, have been donated by interested citizens and have been planted since the camp was established. The parade grounds are kept in fine condition by constant work and the softball diamond located at the southwest end of the camp is one of the finest in the sub-district of which this camp is a part. A tennis court is now being built which will add much to the pleasure of the enrollees.

Camp Jacksonville has an enlisted personnel of 212 enrollees with O. T. Sheehy as commanding officer; Lieut. Robert W. Cockrell, transportation officer; Lieut. T. J. Jasinski, medical officer; and Rane Bohon, educational advisor.

Recently this camp was made sub-district headquarters for the 13 camps in this district with Capt. J. Emmett Wilson as sub-district commander. A relay radio station has also been established. This station is used as a relay point for messages between Jefferson Barracks and Fort Sheridan.

The four large barracks in which the enrollees are quartered are inspected each day. Each enrollee is responsible for keeping his section of the barracks in order and a prize is given each week for the barracks having the best record.

The mess hall and kitchen are kept in fine condition and a rigid inspection is made four times each day by the officer in charge, Lieut. Robert W. Cockrell is mess officer in addition to his other duties. The fine health record of the camp may be attributed to the efficient work of Lieut. T. J. Jasinski, medical officer in charge.

Captain O. J. Sheehy, the commanding officer, is also recruiting officer of District 19 for enlisting additional men in C.C.C. camps both juniors, 18 to 26 years of age of relief families, World War veterans and Spanish war veterans. District 19 comprises the following counties in Illinois: Sangamon, Cass, Morgan, Menard, Greene, Jersey, Pike and Calhoun.

The camp payroll for the enrollees is approximately $1,400 each month. This in addition to that paid the officers is spent locally in addition to the large amount spent for foodstuffs and equipment locally by the camp each month.

The enrollees are mostly from homes in southern Illinois and they are between 18 and 26 years of age. Several World War veterans are also among the number enrolled. Groups are in charge of leaders selected from the enlisted personnel and appointments are made by the commanding officer from the outstanding workers.

The citizens of Jacksonville are proud of the splendid manner in which the enrollees have conducted themselves as members of Camp Jacksonville and the supervisory personnel is to be congratulated on the fine cooperation shown between the officers and enrollees.

Several kinds of work are carried on by the Soil Conservation Service throughout the United States. The type work being done in this locality is that of soil erosion control. This type of work includes the construction of temporary and permanent dams in gulches, the construction of grass water ways, seeding, sodding, tree planting, terracing, and other types of work.

Soil erosion control work has been completed on a number of farms within a radius of 20 miles of Jacksonville and include the following farms in Scott county: Harry Kock, William E. Knapp, John Werries, Jr., and Maria Gordon; in Cass county, John Leonard and in Morgan county farms owned by the following persons: G. E. Houston, G. A. Tuttle, J. W. Dodsworth, Harry Ogle, L. Vinton Bourn, G. F. Fox, Hall Brothers, Harvey McLain, Leland Perdue, Burrus Bros., S. W. Waltman, Fred Six, Charles R. Gibson, Chester Thompson, Charles Drury, George W. Lockhart, Madge M. Barnes, J. R. Bergschneider, William K. Randall and A. O. Harris. The work on these farms has demonstrated the practicability of the kind of soil conservation.

There is still much work to be done on farms in these counties and anyone desiring information regarding what may be done in soil erosion control for their farm should consult B. T. Taylor camp superintendent or T. J. Shambaugh, Jr., Agronomist.

FRED HERR INJURED WHEN HORSE BUCKS

Fred Herr, young attorney who is connected with the law offices of William M. Hildner, was rather badly injured Tuesday at the Mount Woods farm near Modesto when a mare which he was breaking reared and fell backwards upon him. His left foot was crushed when the horse fell upon it, but no bones were broken. Mr. Herr was able to be up and around yesterday.

Closing out one table $1.85 hats 50c.—Emporium.

LEROY STATE BANK OBTAINS JUDGMENT

The Leroy State Bank obtained two judgments yesterday morning in county court here against Dale Van Deventer, on two notes executed by him. The first judgment obtained was on a note for $1374.86 and the court allowed the bank a judgment of $1,737.34 and assessed the costs of the case against the defendant.

The second judgment was on a note for $48.94, and the court allowed the plaintiffs a judgment to the extent of $73.94 and ruled that the defendant must pay the costs of the case.

Colored Baptists To Wind up Big Revival

Singing Of Old Spirituals Adds To Beauty Of Services In Large Tent

A successful three weeks campaign will be wound up next Sunday night when the Mt. Emory Baptist church concludes its series of revival meetings which have been conducted by a number of distinguished colored ministers. Rev. T. A. Johnston, pastor of the local church, has been in charge of the revival services.

The revival meetings have been held in a large tent next to the Mt. Emory church on the corner of South Church and Marion streets. Large crowds, including many white people, have been in attendance regularly during the campaign.

A big feature of these meetings has been the singing of the church choir, which enlivens the program each night with a number of beautiful negro spirituals.

At last night's meeting Rev. Withers of Springfield was the speaker, and this evening Rev. Allen of St. Louis will conduct the services. Rev. Allen will bring with him some of the singers from his church.

Throughout the campaign Rev. Hendrickson, white minister from Arenzville, has been assisting in the work.

Close Arenzville To Beardstown Road; Resurfacing Project

Weekly Report Issued By Auto Club Describes Ways To Go West

The Jacksonville Auto Club in its weekly report issued yesterday announced that the road from Arenzville to Beardstown has been closed for a period of ten days while a "black top" surface is being applied to the road. Crude oil will be spread first and then this will be covered with a layer of gravel.

Salt Lake City, Utah is 1420 miles via US-67 to Virginia; and thru Roseville, Ill.; US-124 to the junction with US-34; US-34 to Glenwood, Iowa; US-275 to Omaha; US-308 to Fremont, Neb.; US-30 through Cheyenne to the junction with US-308; US-308 to Echo City; US-330 to the junction with US-40 and thence on US-40 to Salt Lake City. Paved.

Los Angeles, California is approximately 2180 miles via the above route to Salt Lake City and thence on US-91 to Barstow and US-66 to Los Angeles. Also paved. This is the preferred route from Jacksonville to California at this time of the year. Optional side trips may be made to Bryce Canyon, the north rim of the Grand Canyon, Zion National Park and to Boulder Dam with only a little additional mileage.

Yellowstone Park is 1430 miles from Jacksonville via the above route to Wyoming and US-20 to the Park via the Cody entrance. All surfaced road. An optional route through the Jackson Hole country from Shoshoni may be followed with a little more than 100 miles of gravel road, and entering the park from the south. The route to Yellowstone via the Black Hills is not so pleasant now due to extreme dry weather which has affected the gravel roads in South Dakota.

A. B. Applebee Buys Property At Sale

A. B. Applebee purchased an 11 room home and lot 60x150 feet located at 518 South East street, at a public auction conducted yesterday morning on the steps of the Morgan county court house for $515. The property was encumbered with taxes payable this year, and with ten installments of the South Side sewer special assessment, amounting to $70, plus interest.

The property was offered for sale, subject to the approval of the court, by Nathan H. Clare, administrator of the estate of Sarah C. Bale Clare.

Burial Rites Held For Mrs. J. E. Artz

Remains Of Wife Of Former Brooklyn Pastor Interred Here

Brief memorial services were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in Diamond Grove cemetery for Mrs. J. E. Artz, a former resident of Jacksonville. Mrs. Artz succumbed Monday night at her home in Onarga, Ill., where funeral services were held before the body was brought here for interment.

Mrs. Artz came to Jacksonville in 1895 as the wife of the minister of the Brooklyn church. Rev. and Mrs. Artz were much respected and revered in the Methodist church circles. Dr. J. R. Edwards, the district superintendent of the Methodist church, was in charge of the services here.

Among the pallbearers were Clyde Richardson, Julian Hall, Harve Atkins and W. A. Fay of this city. Many relatives and friends from Onarga, Beardstown and Springfield attended the rites.

EAT AND GROW SLENDER

Lose Dangerous Fat

Cut out fat meats—you don't need them—Go light on butter, cream and sugary sweets—Eat sensibly of lamb, lean beef, fish and fowl.

Eat fruits and vegetables in variety. Gain in physical attractiveness and healthy activity—feel younger—look younger.

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

Take this advice every morning for a month and feel gloriously alive.

Kruschen is a blend of 6 precious different salts and after you have taken only one jar—if you don't feel a real improvement in health—get your money back.

Kruschen is sold the world over—millions of jars a month—there's more than one reason.

No drastic cathartics—no constipation but blissful daily bowel action when you take your little daily dose of Kruschen—Get That Kruschen Feeling. (Adv.)

Wednesday morning at the Carrollton
First Baptist church. Rev. W. D.
Johnson conducted the services. The funeral was via motor to Glasgow where burial was made. The cortege was one of the largest ever witnessed here, the line of cars was considerably over a mile in length. There were almost two large rooms filled with beautiful floral offerings. The bearers were cousins of the dead child, being Junior Howard, Howard Berline,
Billy and Keith Howard. The flowers were cared for by cousins and play-

erine Howard, Mamie Howard, Har-

Evelyn Kirback. That the Howard family are among Carrollton's most highly respected residents was easily attested by the number of relatives and friends that were with them in their dark hour of trouble, and in their sad loss they have the happy consolation that everything that medical and surgical science possesses was used to save the life of their darling, but the great God saw fit to call, and they should be consoled by the thoughts that when the Angel of Death lay silent fingers on the child it was only to call to that great beyond where there is no sorrow, suffering or death. The mother and father and darling sister Shirley Ann have all the sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. and Mrs. John Parker of this city took their son Frank to a St. Louis hospital Wednesday for treatment.
Funeral services for George Gimmy were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the

Hold Reunion for Teachers, Pupils At Durbin School

150 Friends and Former Attendants Gather At School-house Sunday

Durbin, July 30.—The Durbin school reunion held Sunday brought together about 150 patrons, pupils, teachers and friends who voted to meet again next year.

Organization was effected by electing Dennis Whalen, president; James Seymour, vice president; Mrs. Samuel Darley, secretary and treasurer.

ALL-BRAN Corrected Her Constipation*

Here is her voluntary letter: "For years I was a sufferer from constipation. It was necessary to take a laxative every night before retiring. I was an office-worker, and did not get much exercise.

"Some one told me that ALL-BRAN was a good remedy for constipation." I bought a box, and found that it helped my condition. Since then I have not had to invest in laxatives."

"Mrs. Margaret Jones, 911 E. Laura Street, Clearwater, Florida.

Scientific tests have shown that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects constipation safely and pleasantly.

This delicious cereal supplies mild "bulk" as well as vitamin B and iron. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Wouldn't you rather enjoy this natural food than abuse your system with harmful pills and drugs?

Protect your family from the dangers of common constipation. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked in tempting muffins, breads, etc. Recipes on every package.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

the name of Durbin the school also adopted the name.

Among the early teachers recalled to memory at the reunion were Thornton Ransdell, Mr. Ballard, Mary Johnston (1869), Samuel Carter, Sarah Johnston, E. L. Carlile, S. D. Carlile, Georgiana Spotts, Jennie Warcup, Thomas F. Smith, James P. Story, Sophia Dale, Emma Dodsworth, Miss Bowen, Hattie and Abbie Hayden, Samuel McCasland, Serilda Seymour, A. D. Webb and Will Lowery. One of the early pupils, Elizabeth Beavers Ebrey, passed away Sunday morning at her home in Franklin.

Another Franklin resident, Mrs. Elizabeth Dodsworth Scott, was unable to be present but sent a letter saying she entered the school in 1860 when she was 10 years old.

Recalls School.

She recalls that there was just one long desk along one side of the room with a seat in front of it where the pupils sat to write. Books were McGuffey's reader and speller and a copy book. When these were not in use, their owners sat upon them as there was no better place to put them.

So far as is known, Mrs. Scott is the only one left of her class, but she recalls other pupils of the time as George, John, Shelby, Phoebe and Sally Taylor, Hattie Davis, Wm. Saunders, John and Anna Poucher, Ann and Ona Oxley, Ella and Sarah McPhalls, George and Joseph Austiff and Margaret Henry.

Prevented by illness from being present, Miss M. A. Darley, a former teacher, sent an interesting letter which was read and enjoyed as were also the brief talks made by the teachers who were there. Lucile Jones Rawlings seems to have had the longest term as teacher, seven years.

Michigan City Will Stage Celebration

Crystal Lake to Observe Centennial Of Founding Next Week

Many Jacksonville people who have visited Crystal Lake, Michigan, will be interested in the coming celebration of its founding, 100 years ago.

This anniversary will include a three day festival opening next Thursday. Historical parades will take place on the opening and closing days, and there will be dramatic presentations on all three evenings.

Crystal Lake has been a gathering place for Congregational Assemblies for many years. Situated in a beautiful spot near Frankfort, with advantages of interesting programs and campfire, combined with the cool breezes from Lake Michigan it is a resort for vacationists from all parts of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Range and Miss Wilma Range are making a stop at Crystal Lake, while touring this month through northern Michigan.

University Accepts Grant From P. T. A.

Outright Grant To Be Made To One Student Each Year

Local officers have been notified that the scholarship grant, a gift of the Illinois Congress of Parent-Teachers has been accepted by Dr. A. C. Willard, president of the University of Illinois.

The grant will be administered by the university officers, upon recommendation from the state board of the Parent-Teacher association, as an outright gift to one student each year.

The grant is a real contribution to the promotion of better citizenship which is the chief objective of education. The general attitude of the Parent-Teacher organization is that by maintenance and operation of the public school system an opportunity has been given the individual to improve himself through education and thus to increase personal proficiency and competency. Every unit in the Parent-Teacher association has a part in the gift, which will prove a nucleus for further aid in education.

In his acceptance Dr. Willard said: "Such organizations as the Parent-Teacher association have rendered a two-fold service to education. On the one hand they have created in the public mind a sense of the public's responsibility for public education; on the other, they have helped the schools to keep their objectives in harmony with the changing demands of society, to serve present and future generations. I want to take this occasion to pay a tribute to the Illinois Congress of Parent-Teachers and the women of Illinois who have safeguarded the educational system. It is an inspiring example of the unselfish devotion of womanhood to youth. I assure you that it will be administered by the university officers with a deep sense of responsibility for the trust you have given us."

JOHN DUFFNER WILL TALK AT WPA MEET

Another interesting lesson is promised the ball playing youths of Morgan County when they meet at the Y. M. C. A. building this morning at 9:30 o'clock for another session of the Y. M. C. A.-W. P. A. Baseball coaching school. John T. Duffner, captain of the U. of I. 1936 baseball team will again talk to the group about the fundamentals of playing base positions and fielding.

Every boy in the county between 10 and 16 years of age interested in learning how to become a better baseball player is invited to attend this coaching school which is conducted as a part of the Y. M. C. A.-W. P. A. Recreation program.

CHAPTER I

ANN HAMILTON held herself erect as she walked down the avenue. There was new life in the air, reflected in the quickened step and eager eye of every passerby. The boys and girls, strolling during their lunch hour, were well-dressed and confident. The summer heat had not yet begun. Under the cloudless blue overhead the colors were gay. Life was gay.

"Spring on Silk Stocking avenue in any city in the world!" Ann thought, with a sensation of joy. She felt like singing this refrain. The words had a lilt to them.

She stopped before a shop window to admire some brown suits and yellow sweaters. "For travel," a card said. There was a profusion of travel advertisements and booklets in the display. Vacation in the Adirondacks. Dude ranch days. The Minnesota lakes. The Catskills. Les Cotes D'Azur.

Ann looked at the attractive posters and sighed.

Each year in July she looked at travel advertisements and sighed just this way. What person doesn't, she thought, look ahead longingly to a summer vacation?

Ann's secretarial job kept her busy all year. Her annual vacation kept her keen on living, and brought her back eager for the job again. And each year she seemed to live her vacation more intensely, both in her dreams, and in reality. She was 26, and she had made her own way in the world for exactly seven years.

When she glanced into the show window mirrors, conscious of her dark good looks and trim figure, she saw a young man looking at the travel folders, almost over her shoulder.

She noticed that he wore soft, expensive woollens and carried a downy polo coat over his arm. His collar was snug and high. The very crush in his hat was redolent of good taste and luxury. He had brown hair and blue eyes; his face was pale, and he looked tired.

When he moved away from the window, swinging along gracefully, Ann started after him with faint recognition; she had seen his likeness somewhere—perhaps in a rotogravure section.

Ann didn't quite realize what she was doing, but she found herself following the course the young man took. He walked a few blocks and entered the arcade of the tallest building in the city.

JUST as he went into the smart travel bureau which occupied half of the ground floor she remembered who he was. He was Jaime Laird, a rich young man who followed the races from Hialeah to Santa Anita to Saratoga again. Ann thought that he must have been ill, for a man who followed the sun all the time as a vacation should have a tan complexion.

Ann didn't quite realize what she was doing, but she found herself following the course the young man took. He walked a few blocks and entered the arcade of the tallest building in the city.

"Last summer you went to the Maine woods," he went on glibly. "Let's see—you stayed at one of the Rangeley Lakes. A dude ranch affair."

Ann's face was positively radiant. "Yes!" she said. "I enjoyed it very much. And thanks for the special attention you gave me. It was very nice of you to have them meet my train at that hour of the morning! But I didn't think you'd remember me. All these office girls—"

The young man flushed, and then he seemed to single her out from all the other vacationers whose summer trips he had planned.

"I've been selling you vacations for a long time, haven't I?" he said.

He looked at her. It was a long, searching look, in the course of which their eyes met and held. Suddenly both looked away and blushed.

Something had happened in that moment, Ann realized. Always before when she had come to the travel bureau she had been the customer, a girl capable of paying her way on a vacation. He had been the man behind the counter. It was Bill Ware who first realized that this anonymity couldn't endure any longer. He had to know this girl!

As he talked he couldn't keep his eyes from her. His glib travel talk became hesitant and confused. His praise of this and that vacation resort seemed pathetically weak. He dropped folders. Suddenly he realized that he wasn't "selling her." She wasn't receiving his suggestions in a favorable light.

"But I went to a mountain resort three summers ago," Ann said. "I like a new place every year. Perhaps the seashore. Cape Cod."

Ann had always picked the small resort hotels where she thought she would make the most friends. In Ann's adventurous there was a practical bent to her day-dreaming. She tried to avoid the de luxe hotels where a stiff decorum would keep her from meeting people easily.

Ann

This was the travel office in which she had made arrangements for her vacations each of the past seven years. Ann hadn't intended planning her vacation today, but the sight of Jaime Laird in the bureau gave her an adventurous spur. She entered the room with its attractive travel displays, and waited while the fabulous Jaime Laird was served.

Ann stole furtive glances in the mirror as she waited. Her dark brown hair was parted at the side and waved back softly. Her face was radiant. Her blue eyes sparkled.

"I've just had an operation," Jaime Laird said to the clerk. "I want to go away for a rest—some quiet spot in the mountains."

Ann's adventurous spirit felt; she was planning on the seashore this summer. Buck up, old girl, she thought whimsically, perhaps this just isn't the man for your vacation romance.

Ann had a way of kidding herself out of adversity. She was always "bucking herself up," as when she sent the checks back upstate to help support her widowed mother and two small brothers. But she was still naive enough to admit that each year she hoped for romance on her vacation. All the girls in the office did that. On their two weeks' vacations they were looking for "the right guy," who didn't seem to exist in a workaday world.

Vacation romance! One always met attractive young men at resort hotels. They were like flying fishes; you had to go to the South Seas to find them.

Ann moved away from the young man and idly fingered the romantic descriptions of summer travel on the desk. She glanced at a picture of Cape Cod. Every year in July Ann entered this travel agency, and asked for folders. Every year the same young clerk who now was waiting on Jaime Laird had planned a vacation trip for her. He always greeted her with that faint look of recognition that automobile salesmen have for their infrequent clients. He never seemed to recall her name, but he talked in a pleasant way when he figured out the details of her summer trip.

ANN didn't remember his name, though it was neatly inscribed on a little bronze plaque. She eyed it closely now while she waited, and then glanced at the plain dark suit and white shirt he wore. The young man's name was William Ware. Just plain Bill Ware, she mused. Like thousands of other counter men in a city, always ready to serve one but preserving an anonymous role.

But suddenly a face appeared behind that anonymity of man-behind-the-counter. It was a surprisingly attractive face, with clean-cut features. She thought he must be about 27 or 28. His blue eyes had tiny wrinkled crow's-feet under them which Ann found engaging.

But when he turned and spoke to her it was his smile that caught and held her attention for one breathless moment. "Good afternoon, Miss Hamilton!" he said briskly. "Where is it going to be this year?"

CHAPTER I-A

THE fact that this young man recalled her name, after seven years of planning her summer vacations, intrigued Ann instantaneously. She felt enormously flattered!

"Last summer you went to the Maine woods," he went on glibly. "Let's see—you stayed at one of the Rangeley Lakes. A dude ranch affair."

Ann's face was positively radiant. "Yes!" she said. "I enjoyed it very much. And thanks for the special attention you gave me. It was very nice of you to have them meet my train at that hour of the morning! But I didn't think you'd remember me. All these office girls—"

"I've been selling you vacations for a long time, haven't I?" he said.

She liked those hotels where the easy camaraderie of games prevailed—swimming, tennis, and boating. The amiable hostess at the little hotels always introduced her to other vacationers.

The girls in the office thought it difficult to meet the right man in the city. Young men who had to stay on their toes all day long to keep their jobs didn't have the time or energy to make satisfactory suitors. On vacations they seemed more susceptible, so Ann and her friends thought.

Actually Ann had frequented resort hotels long enough to sense the frequent dangers in vacation romances. But she liked to entertain the ideal of romance in the more glamorous spots endowed by nature. It made her day-dreams more real and eased the tedium of unvarying months in a business office.

Bill Ware's voice fairly glowed with enthusiasm now. "Why, I should think Lake Racine would be the very place! Swimming, boating, climbing. The Adirondacks are always cool—"

"But I have spent one vacation at Lake Racine," Ann said pertly. "I think I'll go to the seashore."

The young clerk took this rebuttal calmly, and went on planning a trip to Lake Racine for her. He pointed a word picture of the cool mountain lake, his voice mounting to a crescendo until it seemed that he was rhapsodizing the resort.

"Why, I just sold Lake Racine to Jaime Laird, the young sportsman whose pictures you see in the magazines. Not a minute ago. And he's been everywhere"

BILL WARE became so engrossed in talking about the charms of Lake Racine that he took up most of Ann's luncheon hour. When she mentioned the seashore he seemed almost to hate the idea of waves rolling in on a lonely shore. Sands were always lonely, he thought. For the first time in Bill Ware's business career he talked a resort down, thereby perpetrating a breach of ethics. The manager would have said that something was wrong with Bill. Perhaps he needed a vacation himself.

"Why, nobody is going to the seashore this summer," he went on. "They have fogs on every coast. It's been raining since the first of June." His plea for the mountain resort became almost impassioned; he ran a hand nervously through his hair. "You shouldn't think of going anywhere but to Lake Racine. Why, this year I can go to any resort in America, with all my expenses paid, and what do you think I've picked—Lake Racine!"

He added, not quite realizing his naïveté, "You said the first two weeks in August, didn't you? That's the best time at Lake Racine. That's when I am going to be there."

When he realized that he had betrayed his real interest in persuading her to choose Lake Racine, he blushed. Ann was smiling and she thought his quick blush made him more attractive.

She glanced at her wrist-watch, and turned to go. "I have to run to work," she said.

He said, "Oh!" and followed her toward the door. He was dreadfully afraid lest he should lose her. "I could come to your address tonight, and plan your vacation trip!" he said, his eyes beaming. "I'll bring my satchel along with all the details. About the hotels—the works."

He looked so genuinely disturbed that Ann couldn't refuse. She handed him her card and hurried on, thinking, "What a strange young man—to come to life after all these years. Why, he seemed almost human! But I hope he won't try salesmanship on me. I have a mind of my own. I'm going to the seashore."

White Hall Couple Observe Fiftieth Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson Host To Children Wednesday

White Hall—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thompson celebrated their golden wedding Wednesday in a very quiet way at their home on West Bridgeport St. Mr. Thompson has been bedfast with illness since April 19, and because of his illness only their children and two sons-in-law were present for the dinner served at noon. The three sons are Floyd Thompson of Evanston, Ill.; Emory Thompson of Fulton, Ark.; and David Thompson of Hollywood, California, the two daughters are Mrs. A. R. McConathy of White Hall, and Mrs. J. W. Allen of Roodhouse.

In the afternoon the three brothers and two sisters drove to Jacksonville to have a group picture made. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were unable to go. Mr. Thompson and his wife who before her marriage was Miss Sarah Edwards were married July 29, 1886, at 4 o'clock in the home of her sister, Mrs. A. W. Taylor, northwest of Roodhouse in the Barrow vicinity, by Rev. George Murry, of Winchester, a Primitive Baptist minister. Only the immediate families were present for the wedding but the same evening a wedding supper was served for a large number of relatives and friends. The only one present who is now living that witnessed the wedding is Clarence Taylor of Roodhouse who was only three years old at the time.

Mr. Thompson was born north of Roodhouse December 8, 1864. Mrs. Thompson has one sister who is her twin, Mrs. Charles Barrons of McLeansboro.

Mr. Thompson has two sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Sarah Conlee of Roodhouse, Mrs. W. A. Weller of Carlinville; O. S. Thompson of Roodhouse and J. E. Thompson, undertaker at Murrayville.

Mrs. Thompson lived in McLeansboro until she was seventeen years old when she came to Greene county to reside with her sister, Mrs. A. W. Taylor.

Mr. Thompson's ancestors came to Illinois in 1818 and the sixth generation is now living in the vicinity of White Hall and Roodhouse.

Breaks Wrist

Mrs. Anthony Seely fell on the back steps at her home on South Main street, Tuesday evening and broke her right wrist. She did not realize the wrist was broken and did not call a physician until Wednesday morning to have the injury treated.

News Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McColister and Miss Pauline Lukeman of Carrollton, and Elizabeth Dawdy of White Hall attended the municipal opera, "New Moon" in St. Louis Thursday night. The fifth annual reunion of Greene County Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will be held at the Roodhouse Community Park, next Sunday afternoon, August 2. All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are asked to bring a basket supper. There will be plenty of ice water, lemonade and ice cream for the crowd. Swimming, cards, horseshoe pitching and other games will be indulged. V. H. Moore of Roodhouse and J. D. Rowe of White Hall, president and secretary, are in charge of affairs.

State's Attorney Beal Smith and son, Forest, and Dean McPherson, left Thursday for Waupaca, Wisconsin, for a ten days' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Keller visited with his brother, Valentine Keller near Wrights Monday.

Mrs. James Galaway, Miss Lizzie Strang, and Miss Edith McCollister were hostesses to the members of the Golden Rule class at the Galaway home on Carr street, Wednesday afternoon. There were sixteen present including two guests. A novel part of the program was the measuring of waist lines and paying one cent per inch of the measurement, which amounted to $6.51. Other monies collected brought the total to $9.01. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Prosie Wallburn.

Cardinals Win From Brooklyn 7 To 0 As Cubs Lose To Giants

Rookie Trio Leads Red Bird Attack; Pull up to Within One Game of League Leaders

Brooklyn, July 30.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' star rookie trio, led by pitcher Jim Winford who pitched 4-hit shutout ball, led the way to a 7 to 0 victory over the Dodgers today, pulling the Gas House gang up to one slim game of the National League pace.

In addition to Winford, the other youngsters having a big hand in the victory were first baseman Johnny Mize, who batted out two hits, one a homer in the sixth, and third-sacker Arthur Garibaldi, who drove in one run with a long fly, and had two hits.

Manager Frankie Frisch, who had failed to hit in his previous 24 previous times at bat, drove in two runs with a single during a three-run spree in the second inning. The other tally came in on Garibaldi's fly.

In the eighth, Lippy Leo Durocher scored when he and Garibaldi worked a fast double steal, and in the ninth, after Watson Clark relieved Fred Chicken Fry, Winchester, Sunday, Aug. 2.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking acids and wastes out of the blood. A healthy person should pass about 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, waste stays in the body and may become poisonous. It may start nagging backaches, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't let it lay you up. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills—used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get Doan's Pills.

White Sox Defeat Athletics 7 to 4

Kennedy Wins Ten in a Row and 14th of Season

Chicago, July 30.—(AP)—Keeping nine Athletic hits well scattered, Vernon Kennedy, star White Sox right-hander, defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 7 to 4 today for his tenth consecutive victory and his 14th triumph of the season. One of the hits was Bob Johnson's 16th homer.

The victory was the third straight for the Chicagoans and gave them the series, three games to one. Kennedy was blasted for 14 hits in less than six innings by the A's in Monday's game, but was not charged with the defeat.

The Sox bunched their 13 hits off Gordon Rhodes, with Luke Sewell contributing a triple and double.

Tigers Win from Yankees, 5 to 4

Come from Behind To Tie; Score in Tenth

Detroit, July 30.—(AP)—With Schoolboy Rowe pitching his second winning game against the league leaders in four days, the Tigers came from behind today to defeat the New York Yankees 5 to 4 in ten innings and cut the pace-setting edge to 7 1-2 games.

A passed ball, which got away from Bill Dickey just after Pat Malone had relieved Johnny Broaca with one out in the tenth, sent the winning run across to give the Tigers an even break in the four game series.

With second-place Cleveland winning over Washington, the Yankees' league lead was clipped to the smallest it has been in nearly a week.

Charley Gehring's homer with a mate on base in the eighth inning, brought the Tigers back into the thick of the ball game, tying the score after the Yankees had taken a 3-0 lead in the first four innings, and had held a 4-3 edge going into the last of the eighth.

The Yanks started the scoring with a two-run rally in the second, when Rowe walked the first two men and gave up the runs on singles by George Selkirk and Jake Powell. Dickey's double and Tony Lazzeri's single added another run in the fourth, and in the eighth, Red Rolfe's single and Lou Gehrig's two-bagger accounted for the final Yankee marker.

The Tigers got under way in the seventh, when singles by Billy Rogell and Rowe, and Ray Hayworth's two-bagger brought in two runs. Gehring's homer added two more in the eighth. In the tenth, Irv Burns opened with a single and reached third on Goose Goslin's hit, when Broaca was taken out. Malone, called in to pitch to Al Simmons, served the ball that bounced off Dickey's chest protector to allow Burns to come in with the winning run.

Score:

New York 020 100 010 0-4 12 0

Detroit 000 000 220 1-5 14 1

Broaca, Malone and Dickey; Rowe and Hayworth.

Cleveland, July 30.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians pounded out five home runs, two of them by Hal Trosky, today to defeat the Washington Senators 11 to 8 and sweep the four-game series. Stone contributed a Washington homer in the third inning with two mates aboard.

Washington 203 111 000-8 12 2

Cleveland 403 001 21x-11 14 0

Corn Jumps Limit In Day's Trading

Alarm Over Crop Failures Responsible

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—Alarm resulting from official statements indicative of widening disaster to the nation's corn crop whirled the corn market 4 cents a bushel skyward today.

In six of the largest producing states—Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and South Dakota—it was announced half of the corn crop has been damaged beyond recovery. Moreover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace was quoted as suggesting likelihood that the country's 1935 total yield of corn will be the smallest in more than half a century, amounting to less than a billion bushels, whereas 2,000,000,000 bushels are needed.

Immediate further soaring of prices was temporarily halted because alone of the fact that exchange rules were enforced which prevented the corn market going higher than 4 cents in any one day. So excited was buying at times in the speculative pits that identical simultaneous dealings in different parts of the corn crowd were at prices 2 cents asunder.

Corn closed strong at the day's top and the highest point reached in six years, 31-44 above yesterday's finish, Sept. 98, Dec. 90, May 91, wheat 11-15 up, Sept. 110-110, Dec. 110-111, May 112, Oats 11-2 cents advanced, Sept. 40-41 and rye showing 21-22 bulge, Sept. 78. The outcome in provisions was unchanged to a jump of 35 cents.

Bond List Swings To Higher Ground

Steel Companies Turn in Good Earnings Report

New York, July 30.—(P)—Broad movements on the upside by a number of foreign bonds and low priced corporate issues kept the listed market higher today.

Trading was active, due principally to the marketing of two new issues aggregating $44,000,000. Total sales amounted to $11,604,000, par value, compared with $13,014,000 the day before. Sales in the government department were $1,050,000.

Inspired by excellent earnings reports of steel companies and other industrial concerns, buyers took kindly to some of the high priced investment bonds, as measured by the Associated Press averages. This group advanced 2 of a point to 111.8. Other groups used in the compilation showed little change.

Conspicuous on the upside were Youngstown sheet and Tube 3 1/8 at 118. Utility Power and Light 5 1/8 at Railway 4 1/8 at 74. St. Louis-San 7 1/8, Walworth 5 1/8 at 77. Southern Francisco 4 1/8 at 25. Allegheny Stamp- 5 1/8 at 63. Chesapeake and Ohio 4 1/8 at 124, and Rock Island General 4 1/8 at 34.

Farm and Rural Interest

Summary of Agricultural Situation Given; Prepare Forms For Last AAA Payment Here; Fall Clover and Alfalfa Seedings; 4-H Club Plans State Judging Contest

While Secretary Wallace of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture was discussing the probable necessity of importing Argentine corn into this country this year to make up for the short crop which he said might be the smallest since 1881, corn belt farm daily newspapers came out with an item that agricultural conditions are generally better than what they were in 1934.

FARM DAILIES SAY AGRICULTURE BETTER THAN IN YEAR 1934

Chicago—(U. P.)—Agricultural conditions compare favorably with the last great drought year, 1934, and are "not so bad as many people seem to think," the corn belt farm dailies declared Tuesday in the July issue of "The Agricultural Situation."

"The greatest difference between the two years (1934 and 1936) is that this year farmers nearly everywhere harvested a good early hay crop, so that the country is not destitute of feed as it was two years ago," the Agricultural Situation said.

"Wheat has made at least part of a crop and some sections did very well on the bread cereal."

"Many farmers have been surprised at their oat harvest. What appeared to be an almost complete failure is turning out a fair yield of heavyweight oats."

"A great deal of the corn can still make a crop. What it will do will depend on weather during the next few weeks."

RUSH WORK ON WHEAT COMPLIANCE FORMS

The Farm Bureau officials here are speeding up their work on the 1936 Wheat Compliance forms. This is the last end of the AAA, which will make one payment to the farmers who complied with its regulations despite the fact that it has been declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court. The local work will be completed by the first of September at which time they will be sent to Washington for payment.

DISEASE HITS HOGS
The extreme heat and dust in this locality has caused many hogs to be affected with necro, a disease which is the cause of ulcers in the intestines of the swine. It has also been reported that many spring pigs in this vicinity are suffering from the flu.

Corn Not So Good
We wish to correct an item published several days ago in which Bascom Kennett was quoted as expressing hopes for the corn in his vicinity. The opinion was made to appear too strong.

Mr. Kennett said; the corn will do to make half a crop, and it won't do that unless it rains, he reported. Mr. Kennett operates a farm about five miles northeast of the city.

Len Megginson and Byron Waterfield of the Lynnville neighborhood were in St. Louis today to market a load of hogs which they had fattened.

U. of I. Crop Expert Gives Directions for Fall Legume Seedings

Urbana—Since legumes planted this spring have failed over much of Illinois because of the drought, fall seedings of red clover, sweet clover or alfalfa made as soon as rains permit will be necessary if a legume shortage in 1937 is to be avoided, warns J. C. Hackleman, crops extension specialist, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

"It is especially important this year that a good seed bed be prepared, since all possible moisture must be made available," he explained. "Where the legume is to be seeded following a small grain crop which was combined, it is best to remove the straw from the land before attempting to disk up a seed bed. If preparations are started immediately, the seed bed should be ready as soon as the rains come."

"A successful summer seeding of legumes is more nearly assured if the

SHERIFF'S SALE
By virtue of an Execution to me directed by the Clerk of the Circuit Court of Morgan County, in the State of Illinois, in favor of W. B. Lagers, Plaintiff, and against William Edwards and Edith L. Edwards, Defendants, I have levied upon all right, title, interest and claim of William Edwards and Edith L. Edwards in and to the following described Real Estate—

North West (NW) Quarter (1) of the North East (NE) Quarter (1) of Section Thirty-Six (36), Township Thirteen (13) North (N), Range Ten (10) West (W) of the Third (3rd) Principal Meridian, and the South Half (S) of the North West (NW) Quarter (1) of the South East (SE) Quarter (1) of Section Twenty-Five (25), in Township Thirteen (13), North (N), Range Ten (10) West (W) of the Third (3rd) Principal Meridian, all in Morgan County, Illinois, containing Sixty (60) Acres more or less.

As the property of the said William Edwards and Edith L. Edwards which I shall offer at public sale, to the highest and best bidder for cash in hand, at the south door of the Court House in Jacksonville, Illinois, on Monday, the 10th day of August A. D. 1936, at 10 o'clock A. M., to satisfy said Execution.

Kenneth Woods
Sheriff of Morgan County
Dated this 21st, day of July, 1936.

N. Y. Stock Market Takes Turn Upward

Steels and Motors Begin Rally

New York, July 30.—(P)—The stock market sat up today and took a little recovery nourishment.

While the list continued to cope with profit taking in many departments, an early rally in yesterday's heavy steels and motors brightened the horizon for bullish forces and several of the aviation, alcohol, amusement, rubber, rail and specialty issues were singled out for buying attention.

The flow of favorable business and industrial news tended to keep further realizing within bounds and stimulate extension of commitments in equities showing promise of higher earnings and dividends.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks came back 2 to 68.2. Transfers totaled 1,512,930 shares against 1,947,880 in the preceding session.

Improvement in the steels was attributed to further study of the U. S. Steel report and the general conclusion it was much better than indicated at first glance. After the close Bethlehem realized its second quarter statement disclosing the best net for any period, with one exception, since 1930.

Bethlehem's president Grace sounded a cheering note for the industry by predicting that third quarter operations would compare favorably with those of the second.

Some of the silver stocks dropped. The farm implements fell back as drought damage estimates were raised.

State 4-H Club Livestock Judging Contest, August 3

Urbana, Ill., July 31.—More than 150 livestock judging teams representing the 25,000 members of 4-H clubs of Illinois are expected to take part in the annual state 4-H livestock and dairy judging contest at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois on Monday, August 3. E. I. Pilchard, extension specialist in junior club work, reports.

Last year 131 teams representing 58 counties competed for honors. Total attendance including team members, alternates and club leaders was 663.

"Competition is expected to be unusually keen this year," said Pilchard, who will have charge of the contest.

"A larger registration is anticipated, and teams have been training faithfully in an effort to wrest the first place trophies from the Magnolia Hustlers and the Lake Zurich Club."

First place award is an engraved shield to be retained for one year by the winning team, with medals going to team members. The number one livestock judging team has the privilege of representing Illinois in the non-collegiate contest held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

The team winning first in dairy judging may also represent the state in the national 4-H dairy judging contest at Dallas, Tex., in October.

Gains Recorded in Better Curb Market

New York, July 30.—(P)—Gains in a handful of specialties stood out in a moderately improved curb market today.

The high priced Great Atlantic & Pacific advanced more than 3 points to 121 1/2 while Aluminum Co. of America added 2 at 133 1/2 and Peppercorn nearly a point at 73 1/2.

Fractional lifts were recorded for such trading leaders as American Gas at 43 1/2, Bunker Hill & Sullivan at 81 1/2, Cord Corp. at 44, Gulf Oil at 89, Niagara Hudson at 151, Wayne Pump at 32 1/2 and Utilities Power & Light Preferred at 32 1/2.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass yielded 2 to 133. Slightly lower were International Petroleum at 34, Lake Shore Mines at 58 1/2, Sunshine Mining at 13 and United Light & Power "A" at 71.

Transactions totaled 370,000 shares against 403,000 Wednesday.

Hog Prices Lower On Livestock Mart

Trade Strengthens Late In Session

Chicago, July 30.—(P)—A reaction in hog prices today from higher levels since last September disregarded two factors in the trade which ordinarily lead to increased values. Livestock men said the reason for today's early 10 to 15 cents lower market apparently was based on the fact that the recent protracted upturn in value curtailed demand to some extent and

Overflow Crowd Hears Dr. Francis Townsend At Local High School

The workings of the Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension plan, its aims, causes and effects, were explained to an overflow crowd at the Jacksonville high school auditorium last night by its originator, Dr. Francis Townsend of California, a former Illinois man. Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, a follower of the late Huey P. Long, and a leader of a large political group in Louisiana, followed Dr. Townsend with a denunciation of the present federal administration, and closed his remarks with a scathing attack on the record made by the congressman from this district, Scott Lucas, during the last two sessions of congress.

Harry Montgomery, Republican candidate for congress from this district, appeared before the gathering at the close of the meeting and promised the people present to do the most in his power for their benefit if elected to the congressional chair.

Declaring that it was their purpose to capture the power of government through the election of candidates favorable to their cause, both Dr. Townsend and Rev. Smith lambasted the "brain trust" federal government, and raked the Republican party with burning remarks.

Rev. Smith centered his remarks on the growing tendency toward a communistic form of government in the United States, pointing out the people in one section of the country have been going without the necessities of life, while the government was paying people in other sections of the country to destroy these necessities. He also attacked the loaning agencies set up by the government, declaring that people who accepted help from them were only postponing the day when they must meet their obligations, and that they were pouring more money in the form of interest into the hands of moneyed interests in the east.

Oratorically flailing the dole, the Louisiana pastor who was at the side of the late Huey Long when he was shot down in the New Orleans capital building, declared there were more men under slavery now in the United States than there were before the Civil war. The dole does not furnish the same protection that the slave owner furnished, the speaker continued, in that it does not provide a home and does not give sufficient food.

The communistic trend of the government excited his interest in politics, Rev. Smith declared, and stated that the men who are doing the thinking in the present administration are communists and atheists.

Striking out at Scott Lucas, who, Rev. Smith said, was a member of the congressional committee appointed by the Farley political machine to investigate, arrest and stop Townsend, the speaker stated that when this district elected the Havana man it dropped from one of the places of eminence in Washington to lowest place possible. He said Lucas was one of the men on the committee which refused to permit Dr. Townsend to consult his attorney, call witnesses in his behalf, and which told Townsend to "Stand up," "Sit down," "Keep still" and which made various other threats.

Going into Lucas' record, the pastor declared that Lucas was opposed to the old age pension plan, but that he voted only 61 times out of a possible 204 during the two sessions of congress. Calling him "Possum Scott," the speaker quoted from a record that Lucas was not present when a vote was called on 33 measures, was present but not voting 69 times when a vote was called, and voted present 40 times, making a total of 142 times he did not vote for or against a measure.

Congressman Lucas voted in favor of the various agricultural control bills, the speaker continued, and also voted in favor of outlays totaling $19,649,475.03, but was not in favor of voting $2,000,000,000 to prime the old age pension pump. Closing his attack on Lucas, Rev. Smith declared voters of this district "ought to bury his political hide under the sour apple tree."

The Townsend Old Age Revolving Pension plan is not a plan meant to benefit the old people alone, Rev. Smith declared, but it is only the beginning point of a vast program designed to bring about recovery through restoring the purchasing power of the nation. By restoring purchasing power, he argued, the nation will be able to purchase more goods, which will result in higher wages and better times for everybody.

"Dr. Townsend and I are symbols that things are not right in this country," the political evangelist told the gathering. "People are sick of what they've got. They are going to reach out and take back their government."

Relating the details of their campaign, Rev. Smith said that he and Dr. Townsend had made a trip across the continent speaking for the last 90 days, and that they now are on their second trip across the nation. He explained the youth movement, through which it is hoped to enroll over a million youths under the Townsend banner, and declared that Huey Long had proved that it was possible to educate boys and girls cheaper in universities than it was to put them in CCC camps, by a difference of $12 a month per person.

Centering his attack on the New Deal administration's agricultural policies, Rev. Smith declared there were children in North and South Carolina and Georgia who did not taste milk for a whole year while milk was being spilt on the ground in Minnesota and New York. He pointed out that 40 million pounds of butter fat were shipped into this country last year, and that cattle and swine also were shipped in from foreign ports while the government was destroying livestock in this country.

Modern Woodmen Now Barred from State of Missouri

Insurance Commissioner Asks Palmer To Take Action in Illinois

Springfield, Ill., July 3.—Director Ernest Palmer of the Illinois insurance department was asked today by R. E. O'Malley, Missouri's insurance commissioner, to "protect" Missouri members of the Modern Woodmen of America from alleged improper actions of the society.

Commissioner O'Malley wrote the director the request shortly after announcing he had barred the Modern Woodmen from further selling of certificates in Missouri. The revocation order charged Woodmen officers with fraud in making contracts and in assuming powers beyond the organization's constitution. The order came after a hearing early in the week.

"There are other indefensible charges, but they may be found proved in the transcript of the hearing," O'Malley wrote Director Palmer.

"By my action in revoking the license of this society, it will not be permitted to solicit new members in this state. As you know, such action will not protect the present members. Such protection must come from you. In the interest of thousands of Missouri citizens who are now members of this society, the present incompetent, to say the least, management, should be removed, thereby affecting tremendous savings and eliminating useless positions and wasteful expenditures. To this end, you will have my earnest cooperation and the cooperation, I believe, of every insurance supervisor in the United States."

The head camp of the Modern Woodmen is in Rock Island. Director Palmer several weeks ago announced he did not agree with findings of Commissioner O'Malley and he believed no action should be taken against the Woodmen. The director was not in Springfield today to comment on O'Malley's letter.

The Garden of Eden and we have to stay on the outside and look in," he charged.

A method by which the dividends of a nation of abundance might be made available to everyone is the problem facing the American people today, Dr. Townsend said in opening his remarks. These dividends have been withheld from a great number of people, he continued, declaring that someone had been cheating.

United States, one of the greatest corporations in history, has been negligent about seeing to it that the dividends go back to the people who have made them possible. The Townsend plan proposes to see that all relief ceases, and that the abundance of the nation is distributed so that everyone has some of it.

The present Federal administration has not proposed any plan to bring about a distribution of the wealth of the nation, he charged, stating that its sole accomplishment along this line has been public works. In these public works, the speaker claimed, the contracts are let to the lowest bidder, who see to it that they use machines wherever possible thereby preventing much of a spread of good.

Approximately the same percentage of people in all localities of the nation are affected by the present economic system, he said, and therefore it becomes increasingly important to increase the buying power through some system which will reach all parts of the nation and balance production.

The Townsend plan, the mild-mannered representative from California, who was born in Livingston county, Illinois, said, gives elderly people who have produced a large part of the present wealth of the nation some of the dividends from their work, with the provision that they spend it in 30 days, for things, services and goods.

Machines are driving men over the ages of 45 out of production, he declared, and the sooner the nation realizes that this is a machine age, the sooner the nation will be able to adjust itself to the new economic order.

The age of 60 years is an arbitrary figure set to begin giving the old age pensions, he continued. It might be any age, but men and women who have reached the age of 60 years have completed their active service to the nation. They still have a value, he argued, for there should be no non-active people. They should be given the money with which the nation will balance its production.

The Townsend plan proposes to finance the Revolving Pension through a two per cent sales tax on every business transaction. He declared that if the two per cent sales tax law was adopted, the revenue it would produce would be sufficient to finance the pensions and to pay off the national debt in a few years. He called the sales tax a painless tax in that it is paid at the time a transaction is made. He proposed to attach stamps to be sold at post-offices, to the bills of sale, and to make all sales made without payment of the tax illegal.

Diagnosing the present trouble as the failure of the wealthy class to pay its just share of the cost of government, Dr. Townsend declared that the accumulation of wealth in the hands of a few would continue until the government took some action to force them to pay.

He characterized the income tax as one of the modern methods designed to attack this class, he criticized it because it made so many exemptions and there were so many means of escaping taxation.

Discussing the figure of $200 set up to be paid to each person over 60 years of age under his plan, Dr. Townsend said that it had been figured out that it required that much money to replace one man in a job for a month. By giving all persons over 60 years of age a pension, he argued, there would immediately be created 8,000,000 jobs, and buying power would increase just that amount.

Pointing to the trend of government, the speaker said that already there have been indications that the nation is getting away from the private profit business system, and declared that when that becomes a fact, democracy is threatened with extinction. Owners of great wealth already are clamoring to have the privilege of voting taken away from persons who do not own property, he charged.

The tendency is toward regulation, he continued, pointing to the agricultural acts which tell the farmers what to sow and what to reap. Farmers are being hired to plant as the government tells them to plant, he said, but warned his listeners that this can not go on forever. They have been hired on borrowed money, and sooner or later this money must either be paid back, or the government will have to renege its notes. Already, he said, there is a debt of $12,000 to $13,000 against every quartersection of tillable soil.

Declaring that it was his belief that the government should be made to stop borrowing, Dr. Townsend stated that the government should obtain enough from taxation to support itself. Already the government owns a large number of mortgages on farm properties. The nation should get away from borrowing, he declared.

The Democratic party has been dead for the past three years, and the Republican party died four years ago, the speaker said. Neither of the major parties plan any means of redistributing the wealth, he declared.

There is plenty of work to be done

Julian P. Lippincott Former Jacksonville Lawyer, Dies in West

Julian P. Lippincott, known in this city by his connections with Illinois College and in the legal profession, died July 22 in Berkeley, California. The information was received yesterday in this city by a friend of the family.

Funeral services were held last Saturday. Interment was in the G. A. R. section of Mountain View cemetery in Oakland.

Julian Post Lippincott was born in Marine, Madison county, October 27, 1847, the son of Rev. Thomas Lippincott, the latter long a trustee of Illinois College and one of two men who selected the present site of the institution.

Mr. Lippincott entered Illinois College as a student in 1868, receiving his degree four years later as valedictorian of the class. He was president of historic Phi Alpha literary society, in his senior year.

After a law course at the University of Michigan he began practice in Jacksonville as a member of the firm of Morrison, Whitlock and Lippincott in 1874. After fifty-two active years in the legal profession, in 1926 he moved to Berkeley, California, where his son is a member of the faculty of the University of California.

Lippincott House

He was married to Clara Adams, daughter of Dr. Samuel Adams in 1874. The Adams' home, with its fine traditions, became best known as the Lippincott home, and is now serving as a dormitory for senior Illinois College girls. It was recently named Lippincott House in memory of Mrs. Lippincott.

Mr. Lippincott served eight years as a member of the local board of education from the fourth ward under the old city charter. When the present organization was effected in 1916, he was named president of the board at the first election, and by reelection served until 1922.

He was also a member of the board of trustees of Illinois College for nine years, serving for a time as secretary of that body, and being elected for three terms of three years each as alumni trustee.

Last spring Mr. Lippincott visited Jacksonville on a matter of business. He called on old friends and was on the campus of Illinois College. The warm esteem with which his acquaintances here received him, evidenced the high regard which his service and life in Jacksonville had won for him.

Surviving members of the family include two daughters, Mrs. Alice Stone, Phoenix, Arizona and Mrs. Lucia Smith of Miles City, Montana. There are five grandchildren. Two sons are deceased, William in 1931 and Winthrop in 1881. Two of the grandchildren are survivors of William Lippincott.

Mrs. Lippincott passed away in August, 1922.

Mr. Lippincott was a faithful and active member of the Congregational church.

Cosgriff's Cafe Now Completely Air-Conditioned

System Placed in Operation Thursday Night; Cost More Than $2500

A complete year-around air-conditioning system, costing in excess of $2,500, was placed in operation at the Cosgriff Cafe last night, according to announcement made by the proprietor, Thomas Cosgriff.

L. R. White, engineer for the Air Conditioning & Heating company of Springfield, Ill., was in charge of installation, and has employed several local men during the past few days installing the plant. The system is a product of the York Ice Machinery Corporation.

The system consists of a compressor, air conditioner and economizer. Fresh air is taken from the outside and is then mixed with recirculated air inside the plant. The system is guaranteed to reduce the temperature 15 degrees.

The plant has a capacity of 4,000 cubic feet per minute and will change the air in the cafe every 12 to 14 minutes, at the same time removing excess moisture from the air. All smoke and odors will be discharged to the outside. The air is cooled by means of mechanical refrigeration using Freon gas which is non-poisonous, non-inflammable and non-explosive. The entire plant is operated by electricity.

Several feet of copper tubing varying in size from one half inch to 2 1/2 inches were used in constructing the system.

The large air-conditioner is suspended from the ceiling in the rear of the restaurant and is sealed.

After the system had been in operation for several hours, Mr. Cosgriff stated that it was working satisfactorily and that the temperature in the cafe had been reduced more than 15 per cent.

Mr. Cosgriff received many congratulations from his friends and patrons last night.

The plant will operate both summer and winter, providing fresh air at all times.

PWA Grant of $158,915 for State Hospital Is Authorized in Capital

Public Works Administration officials yesterday morning announced that they had approved an application for a grant of $158,915 for Jacksonville State Hospital, but information as to how the money was to be spent was not available immediately. The grant still needs the approval of President F. D. Roosevelt and the comptroller general before the funds are made available.

Dr. G. C. Brown, managing officer of the institution, said that the funds might have been allocated for the construction of a diagnostic building, but that definite information would have to come from the office of A. L. Bowen, head of the department of public welfare. Efforts to learn how the funds would be used from this office were not successful immediately.

Dr. Brown said that the state asked the federal government for a grant for the purpose of constructing a new diagnostic building, but that the application was turned down.

Yesterday's allocations were made under a recent order from the president to PWA officers to re-examine the list of projects submitted. In Illinois a total of 200 projects were authorized by the PWA upon re-examination.

Hayden Walker, business manager of the local hospital, was on his vacation and could not be reached for a statement. The information regarding the grant was carried by the Associated Press.

Among the Illinois projects passed by the PWA were a grant of $59,727 to the city of Girard for the construction of a disposal plant; a grant of $1,893,272 to the city of East St. Louis for the construction of a bridge; a grant of $263,250 for library uses; the city of Charleston was granted a loan of $187,000 and a grant of $153,000 for the construction of an electric light plant, and the city of Rushville had its application for a loan of $40,000 and grant of $32,727 for waterworks improvements approved.
